

Social and Personal.

The wedding celebration of Miss Sally Seabrooke Cunningham, the daughter of Captain and Mrs. Frank W. Cunningham, to Mr. Eldrich Baker, Jr., took place at 6 P. M. yesterday in St. John's Church, the Rev. Dr. Robert A. Goodwin being the celebrant.

The church was beautifully decorated with floral music was directed by Professor Watson.

The bride wore an imported lace robe above satin and chiffon, and a white lace hat with tulle streamers, and was carried with a white and pink crepe de chine and a pink chiffon hat. She carried a big cluster of pink sweet peas. The wedding party was preceded by Miss Mary Grace Siegel and Lucy Sears in dainty frocks of pink tulle. Mr. J. B. Barker, of Matthews county, was best man to the groom. Other attendants were Dr. Frank Cunningham of New York; Mr. Colbert Cunningham and Mr. E. A. Barber, of Richmond; Mr. Edward Aldrich, of Henrico; Mr. Delawere T. Talman, and Mr. Guy M. Cherry, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker will take a Northern tour. They will have a summer home in Matthews, but will spend a few days in Richmond, and their many friends here will be glad to know.

Roberts—Burnett.

St. John's Church was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday evening at 5:30 o'clock, when Miss Doris Estelle Burnett, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albion Burnett, and Mr. Charles Lightfoot Roberts were united in marriage by the Rev. Dr. Robert Goodwin.

The church was handsomely decorated in pink and white, with floral music. The bride wore a white gown, and the groom wore a dark suit.

Miss Mary Roberts, a sister of the groom, wore smart frocks of Paris mousseline over green silk, and had clusters of maidenhair ferns held with white silk. The groom was attended by Mr. H. Burnett, the brother of the bride, as best man, and by Mr. August Simonetti, Mr. R. T. Durham, Mr. Clarence B. Griffin, Mr. S. P. Harris, Mr. D. W. Reed, and Dr. Oscar Owens, of Manchester, Va.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Roberts left for a Northern bridal tour.

Lakeside German.

The younger set is promised another delightful dance at Lakeside Friday night, June 10th. It will be a superb affair, and the dancing will be under the Richmond Assembly, and already the list of those to be present shows a goodly number. Special cars will leave First and Broad Streets at 8:20.

Among the chaperones who are invited to attend will be Mr. and Mrs. Stewart M. Woodward, and Mrs. J. L. de Treuille, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Quarles, and Mrs. J. E. Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hickey, Mr. and Mrs. M. Spicer and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Swan.

Junior Civic League.

The Junior Civic Improvement League of Brook Avenue, writes the directress of the organization, was formed just after the interesting meeting some weeks ago at the Hotel.

Following the example set by The Times-Dispatch, says the directress, the members of the league, and a list of those to be present shows a goodly number. Special cars will leave First and Broad Streets at 8:20.

Among the chaperones who are invited to attend will be Mr. and Mrs. Stewart M. Woodward, and Mrs. J. L. de Treuille, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Quarles, and Mrs. J. E. Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hickey, Mr. and Mrs. M. Spicer and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Swan.

The Junior Civic Improvement League will meet Friday next at 4:30 P. M. in the home of the youthful president, Miss Annie Schroeder, No. 722 Brook Avenue.

Evans—Tinsley.

Cards have been issued by Mrs. Margaret Upshur Franklin announcing the marriage of her sister, Miss Jessie M. Quinby, to Mr. Charles Graham Evans.

The marriage will take place at noon Thursday, June 10th, in the home of Mrs. Franklin, No. 544 Peck Street, Bedford City, Va.

After the ceremony a breakfast will be served to Miss Quinby's most intimate friends. Mr. Evans will be attended at his marriage by Mr. Samuel Lambeth of Norfolk, Va., as best man. Miss Henrietta Quinby, the sister of the bride, will be the maid of honor.

Surprise Party.

A very delightful surprise party was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Water, No. 515 Cherry Street, in honor of the birthday of their daughter, Miss Marie. Games were indulged in until a late hour, when refreshments were served. The party was a most successful one.

The presenters were Misses Marie Parater, Stella Parker, Lillie Fisher, Helena Steinberg, Margaret and Bronz, Louise Virginia, Annie Gill, Mabel Bowles, Pansy Bowles, Marie O'Donnell and Grace Parater. The guests were Misses Marie Parater, Stella Parker, Lillie Fisher, Helena Steinberg, Margaret and Bronz, Louise Virginia, Annie Gill, Mabel Bowles, Pansy Bowles, Marie O'Donnell and Grace Parater. The guests were Misses Marie Parater, Stella Parker, Lillie Fisher, Helena Steinberg, Margaret and Bronz, Louise Virginia, Annie Gill, Mabel Bowles, Pansy Bowles, Marie O'Donnell and Grace Parater.

At a late hour the merry crowd dispersed, after having spent a most enjoyable surprise on their birthday, wishing her many more happy birthdays.

Japanese Garden Fete.

On to-night and Friday night a Japanese garden fete will be held at Twenty-second and Broad Streets, in the building of the Sheltering Arms Hospital.

As was noted in a recent issue of the paper, this hospital is in need of funds to carry on the work until the regular summer vacation.

The fete will be held under the auspices of St. John's Circle of King's Daughters. Cream will be served by several of Church Hill's most popular societies.

Among other attractions are a musical concert, a play, and a variety of other amusements.

FOUR THINGS.

BY HENRY VAN DYKE.

Henry Van Dyke was born in Germantown, Pa., in 1868. He lives in New Jersey. He was graduated from Princeton College in 1891, from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1897, from Berlin University in 1899. He has been pastor of a church in Newport, R. I., and of one in New York. In 1890 he became professor of English literature at Princeton. He has written volumes of poems, stories and sermons. This poem is from his volume entitled "The Builders and Other Poems."

FOUR things a man must learn to do
If he would make his record true:
To think without confusion clearly;
To love his fellow-men sincerely;
To act from honest motives purely;
To trust in God and heaven securely.

Meeting of Richmond Chapter.

The Richmond Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, held their last meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. N. V. Randolph presiding.

Mrs. John B. Richardson, of New Orleans, a director of the Davis Monument, and the wife of a gallant Confederate officer, was present at the meeting, as was the distinguished Dr. John A. Jones, who took an interested part in the proceedings.

Mrs. Edgar D. Taylor, treasurer of the Davis Monument fund, reported the sum of $300.00 in bank.

The chapter, in response to letters read, decided to send five dollars to the Columbus, Ohio, Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, for the purchase of flowers to be used in the decoration of the chapter in the work undertaken by the board.

In view of the mighty relic in Leo Day, June 11th, ten dollars was voted for the John B. Gordon memorial and for the John B. Gordon memorial.

A letter from Mrs. A. J. Pyle, of the board of managers of the Home for Confederate Women, was read, asking the endorsement and support of the chapter in the work undertaken by the board.

In view of the mighty relic in Leo Day, June 11th, ten dollars was voted for the John B. Gordon memorial and for the John B. Gordon memorial.

Mrs. Randolph, the president, reported $253 raised by the chapter and turned over to the Stuart Monument Association.

terday I saw a young girl, more than commonly endowed as to both figure and face, wearing a gown of white that was soft and mellow and altogether untidy in its effect. It was a French woman's charm.

As a wise and shrewd observer remarked in a recent letter from across the sea, much of the charm of the French woman lies in the perfect cleanliness of all she wears. In the time when the French woman was a model of cleanliness, she was a model of cleanliness.

There was less opportunity for contact with soil, less liability of spilling the French woman's milk, and she was a model of cleanliness.

one giving a deep yoke effect, one several inches wide. The blouse also is tucked and shirred below the shallow yoke and includes big sleeves gathered to form a full, finished cuff with a design means time and patience, but not necessarily excessive cost, yet is daintily itself, and smart in the MAY MANTON.

Personal Mention.

Miss May Manton has returned from a visit to the Philadelphia Horse Show and from being a member of a charming house-party while there.

Mr. Richard Burmeister, pianist, formerly of New York, now professor at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Dresden, Germany, has just finished his first season abroad with the greatest success.

Mr. Burmeister's beautiful home in Dresden has become an artistic center of the city, while Mr. Burmeister, a young pianist, makes it a home for his hospitality, and a home for her country.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Jeffries will spend a part of the summer traveling through the Adirondacks.

Mrs. Watkins and her daughters, Miss Elise and Corolla Watkins, will be at the Rockbridge Alum Springs for a part of the summer.

Mr. Marcellus E. Wright, who is pursuing a course in architecture at the University of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia, returned to Richmond last Saturday, to spend the summer vacation at home.

A very delicate and successful operation was performed on Tuesday forenoon by Dr. Armstrong Crump, of this city, when he abstracted a foreign substance from the eye of Little Rutledge Parker, of No. 207 West Franklin Street.

It had remained embedded in his eye for forty-eight hours and caused great suffering. The substance was removed the little fellow in doing well.

Colonel and Mrs. F. G. Thompson are spending a few days at Virginia Beach during the heated term.

Miss Bettie Clark will be a prominent figure at the Rockbridge Alum during the approaching season. Miss Clark spent last winter in Richmond.

Mrs. Mildred Woodward, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mildred Woodward, of this city, will attend the Nashville Confederate reunion as one of the maids for Miss Jones Laws, of Tennessee.

Dr. and Mrs. John W. Jones will go to Nashville for the reunion.

Mrs. Edmund Waddell and family will occupy the Vall cottage at the Rockbridge Alum this summer. The family has been in the city for some time.

At a meeting of the Board of the Home for Confederate Women, held on Tuesday forenoon, it was decided to have the dedication exercises of the new home at the Rockbridge Alum and extremely popular among the guests there.

Dr. and Mrs. Edmund S. Pendleton, of Irwin, Ga., are in Richmond, the guests of Mrs. R. T. Hunter. They spent Wednesday night at Ashland, on a visit to Dr. Pendleton's brother, Mr. Charles K. Pendleton.

Miss Lillie Madeline Becker, the president of the class of 1904 at the Woman's College, was presented by her classmates with a beautiful pin as a token of their regard.

Dr. John B. Gardner, of Frederick's Hall, Va., announces the engagement and approaching marriage of his daughter, Miss Lillie Madeline Becker, to Mr. Robert C. Atkinson, of Washington.

The ceremony will be performed June 15th in Washington, D. C.

The Daughters of the Confederacy, at their meeting last afternoon, voted to have the dedication exercises of the new home at the Rockbridge Alum and extremely popular among the guests there.

Mr. Clarence Cabell, who has been spending some time with his sister, Mrs. Herbert A. Clairborne, left Monday for New York. He will sail this week for England and on the continent.

MANAGING HOUSEKEEPER
The managing housekeeper, if she be conscientious, will accept no commissions from dealers. It has come to be an accepted rule that butlers and chefs shall receive commissions for all they buy for a household.

But no self-respecting, conscientious managing housekeeper will think of accepting commissions. She is well paid by her employer and should have an eye solely to her employer's interests.

In fact, women are chosen and entrusted with the financial affairs of a household because as a rule they are more reliable than men employed in a similar capacity.

The managing housekeeper will receive all the monthly bills, audit and pay them. To be able to see that no overcharges are made it will be necessary for her to keep a daily account book of all purchases or goods ordered for the household.

A general knowledge of bookkeeping is desirable. The managing housekeeper (right to be familiar with depositing money in a bank and drawing checks, in case her employer wishes to have the monthly accounts paid by check).

Where a managing housekeeper has entire charge of a household, she will pay the bills, as well as the water, gas, and telephone bills. She will render a monthly account, ing to the mistress for money given her and expenditures.

Price Absent-Minded Man.
Ferdinand W. Peck, of Chicago, is credited with one of the latest and best stories of absent-mindedness. It concerns a Pennsylvania professor. Being called out on some urgent matter recently, and expecting to be engaged for some time, he offered a notice to the door of his private mansion stating that he would not be back till 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

As it happened, he was able to get away earlier and arrived back at his chambers a little before 2 o'clock. Seeing his own notice, which he had put on the door, he read it and said: "When he had thoroughly digested its contents he took a seat on the stairs and waited until 3 o'clock."
